

Les agents de voyage et le voyageur

When you go away on holiday, travel agencies often help you (or not!) with many of the arrangements, decisions and activities.

A travel agency wrote this list to explain what they do.

The list also explains what the traveller does.

The person who wrote it seems to have got some things a bit confused.

In this activity:

- he (singular) refers to the traveller (e.g. he – the traveller – buys tickets)
- they (plural) refers to the travel agents (e.g. they – the travel agents – buy tickets).

Read the phrases. Do the travel agents do it or does the traveller?

Attention! You cannot guess; your only clue is the verb.

Once you have ticked WHO is being talked about, then circle whether you think the statement is probably true or is a bit weird!

Exemple:

...entrent Thomas Cuit

the traveller goes into Thomas Cuit the agents go into Thomas Cuit ✓

probably true / a bit weird

1) ...pose les questions the traveller asks the questions the agents ask the questions

probably true / a bit weird

2) ...donnent des infos the traveller gives information the agents give information

probably true / a bit weird

3) ...montrent une brochure d'hôtels he shows a brochure of hotels they show a brochure of hotels

probably true / a bit weird

- 4) ...recommande un hôtel he recommends a hotel they recommend a hotel
probably true /a bit weird
- 5) ...décident la destination he decides the destination they decide the destination
probably true /a bit weird
- 6) ...oublie le passport! he forgets the passport they forget the passport
probably true /a bit weird
- 7) ...arrive à la destination he arrives at the destination they arrive at the destination
probably true /a bit weird
- 8) ...visitent les musées he visits museums they visit museums
probably true /a bit weird
- 9) ...achète des cartes postales he buys post cards they buy post cards
probably true /a bit weird
- 10) ...restent 15 jours he stays 15 days they stay 15 days
probably true /a bit weird
- 11) ...travaillent pendant qu'il est en vacances he works while he is on holiday they work while he is on holiday
probably true /a bit weird
- 12) ...montre les photos des vacances à la famille he shows the holiday photos to the family they show the holiday photos to the family probably true /a bit weird